Big Banks Bus Pull Raises $65,000 for United Way BC

Central Office, Burnaby, BC - Two full-size Coast Mountain buses and five major Canadian banks helped drive community impact over the weekend in Vancouver, raising $65,000 for United Way British Columbia at the Big Banks Bus Pull proudly hosted by Coast Mountain Bus Company.

Teams from RBC, Scotiabank, BMO, and CIBC took part in the bus pull challenge, with Team BMO earning gold. The event was further strengthened by the generous support of TD.

"This event shows what's possible when organizations come together with purpose," said Michael McKnight, President and CEO, United Way British Columbia. "The teamwork and generosity on display will make a real difference for people in need in our communities."

By the Numbers

- $65,000 raised for United Way BC community programs
- 8 teams competing from Canada's largest banks
- 2 full-size Coast Mountain buses pulled across the course
- 2 giant ropes
- 96 pairs of gloves
- 1 incredible community

United Way BC thanks all participating banks, TransLink, Unifor Local 111, Coast Mountain Bus Company, volunteers, and supporters for helping make the event a success.
